Rali Mampeule accepted into Forbes Real Estate Council

Forbes Real Estate Council Is an Invitation-Only Community for Executives in Real Estate

Boston July 22 2019— Rali Mampeule Founder and CEO of South African Housing and Infrastructure Fund (SAHIF), a South African based fund that is acquiring vacant and unused land near the centres of towns and cities for conversion into zoned and serviced stands has been accepted into Forbes Real Estate Council, an invitation-only community for executives in the real estate industry.

With over 15 years experience in the Real Estate industry, Mampeule is a willing buyer and seller of income generating Real Estate Assets in Commercial, Retail, Industrial and Residential properties, based in South Africa.

Now accepted into the globally acclaimed Forbes Real Estate Council, Mampeule was vetted and selected by a review committee based on the depth and diversity of his experience. Criteria for acceptance include a track record of successfully impacting business growth metrics, as well as personal and professional achievements and honors.

“We are honored to welcome Rali Mampeule into the community,” said Scott Gerber, founder of Forbes Councils, the collective that includes Forbes Real Estate Business Council. “Our mission with Forbes Councils is to bring together proven leaders from every industry, creating a curated, social capital-driven network that helps every member grow professionally and make an even greater impact on the business world.”

As an accepted member of the Council, Rali has access to a variety of exclusive opportunities designed to help him reach peak professional influence. He will connect and collaborate with other respected local leaders in a private forum. Rali will also be invited to work with a professional editorial team to share his expert insights in original business articles on Forbes.com, and to contribute to published Q&A panels alongside other experts.

Finally, Mampeule will benefit from exclusive access to vetted business service partners, membership-branded marketing collateral, and the high-touch support of the Forbes Councils member concierge team. “I’m excited about joining the Forbes team and feel that my participation will help my Country in creating solutions of addressing the material shortfall of housing in South Africa,” says Mampeule.
